“We were impressed by the systems including accounting and record keeping systems providing by your company. In particular, your company's ability to manage the development of the conference volumes with nearly 400 papers was an important part in the success of the conference.”

Gregory Hancock – International Conference on Advances in Structures, Steel, Concrete, Composite and Aluminium

“ICE have provided appropriate and timely resources, planning and guidance during the lead-up to the conference. From our initial contact in the conference planning stages right through to the conference implementation ICE has demonstrated dedication to making our conference the success that it was. With your focus on administration side of conference organising with included delegate registration, securing sponsorship and exhibitors, marketing and financial management, this allowed the Organising Committee to focus on the program development and delivery”
