Venue Highlights

Parliament House Melbourne is one of Australia's oldest and most architecturally distinguished public buildings. Building commenced in 1856 at the height of the gold rush and this is reflected in the lavish use of gold throughout the interior. Its heritage and elegance make it the perfect place for your next event. With a selection of areas to choose from and the professional excellence of the in-house catering department, Parliament House Melbourne can cater to all your needs.

The team at Parliament House Melbourne is dedicated to providing creative and professional assistance in the planning of your event and assisting with any additional requirements. The team pride themselves on their attention to detail and the ability to cater for clients' individual needs, whether it be a gala dinner for 50 or 200 guests in the majestic Queens Hall and Vestibule, or a cocktail party for 700 in the relaxed garden atmosphere. Parliament House's à la carte restaurant Strangers Corridor is open for public bookings for lunch and High Tea when the Parliament of Victoria is not sitting. Strangers Corridor offers a modern Australian menu in a unique environment. Limited seating, so bookings are essential.
