Location/Venue Highlights

Queen Victoria Market is located on Elizabeth Street in the CBD, with public transport conveniently situated right outside the door. Queen Victoria Market is Victoria's premier open-air market. Last year, the Market attracted over 9 million visitors. Spread over two city blocks, it's the largest open air market in the southern hemisphere. The vibrant, cosmopolitan atmosphere of this historic site has endeared the Market to Melburnians for over 130 years. Choose from various precincts within the Market and hold a function that will truly stand out from the rest. From the endless possibilities of the historical sheds, to the beautiful aesthetics of the Dairy Produce Hall, and everything in between – you are only limited by your own imagination.

The Electrolux Cooking School at Queen Victoria Market celebrates the beautiful, fresh, seasonal produce of Queen Victoria Market. At the Electrolux Cooking School, chefs, cookery authors and culinary professionals from Victoria and interstate conduct classes in a range of cuisines, styles and techniques. Planning a team building day, Christmas party, birthday, or hens' night? The Electrolux Cooking School offers private classes, or you can simply hire the venue for a cocktail party or celebration. This venue is all about a cosy atmosphere! Select the cuisine and wine for your event, or leave the decisions to our expert team. Either way, we guarantee you'll enjoy a memorable occasion at the Electrolux Cooking School at Queen Victoria Market.

Suzuki Night Market at Queen Victoria Market is one of Melbourne's favourite summer events. Held every Wednesday night between November and February, the Suzuki Night Market attracts thousands of patrons keen to enjoy a night out under the summer stars. With over 30 food traders offering a range of fare to tempt everyone's tastes, you can enjoy exotic foods from the Middle East, Africa, and Spain, amongst others! There are also bars and wineries where you can try wines or buy them to have with dinner, plus freshly brewed coffee bars. There's also great shopping with over 150 traders stocking the unusual and unique Vintage clothing, original artwork, unique furniture – if you're looking for something a little left of centre you'll find it here. Planning a work break-up? Conference dinner? Whatever the occasion, consider the Night Market at Queen Victoria Market when planning your next unique event!
